

Tasman District School

TO BE, NOT TO SEEM TO BE

BUSY TIMES ON THE FARM

Tasman District School is fortunate enough to have a working farm and a large vegetable garden.

OUR farm has steers, cows, sheep and chickens.

Down at the garden each class has its own garden bed that students are responsible for looking after.

Caramello, one of our cows, has just given birth to a very cute calf and we now need to name her.

Our chickens lay eggs to be used in cooking classes and we are also hatching eggs in an incubator in our class.

Miss Mulder runs the school farm and does a fantastic job, always running it at a profit. Mr Judge runs the school garden and is always up to something exciting.

HEALTHY HERD: Tasman District School stock are in good shape.

We talked to both of them and this is what we found out.

Miss Mulder has been at Tasman for about seven years.

She ensures the cattle have enough feed and the chooks are in good health. She is also responsible for buying and selling livestock.

Students learn how to run a farm successfully and really enjoy the hands-on activities.

Mr Judge has been upgrading our garden area and, with the help of students, has made new garden beds, a worm farm for compost, a seating area and an undercover outdoor classroom.

Mr Judge also runs an online classroom for our students with information on how to plant things, when to plant and scientific information about plant life and the environment.

The online classroom also incorporates our wetlands environment centre.

The students at Tasman are lucky to have the farm, garden and wetlands area and we all enjoy using these facilities.

MARIA SMITH and EMILY HENSENS

TLC: A student tends to the veggie garden.

The Tasman tradition continues

Members of the Dobner family.

THE Grade 5/6 class has discovered there have been three generations of the Dobner family that have either attended or worked at Tasman District School.

Cousins Ella and Elizabeth Dobner are in the Grade 5/6 class, but the first Dobner to come to Tasman was Christine Dobner.

After Grade 10, Christine left to train to be a teacher, but she came back in 1980 and taught the Grade 3 class.

In 1993, after 14 years of teaching at Tasman, Christine decided to retire, but she still lives on the Tasman Peninsula with her granddaughter Ella.

Christine has five children — Guy, Charlotte, Felicity, Simon and Prue, and they all attended Tasman District School.

Quite a few years later all of Christine's children got married and had children. The second youngest in the family, Guy, married Diana who teaches sewing and runs the skill centre at Tasman District School. Their youngest daughter Eliza attends the school.

Dianna's side of the family is also related to the founder of the Mercury Mr John Davies. Maybe Ella or Eliza will go on to be teachers and continue the tradition.

ELIZABETH DOBNER

Surf's up on the Peninsula

THE Tasman Peninsula is an historic place for surfing and surfing culture.

Many enthusiasts travel from Hobart and beyond to surf local spots.

Even professionals from America and Japan travel to surf Shipstern Bluff — also known to locals as Shippy's.

Local surfers have a variety of styles.

There are stand-ups, body boarders and even a few knee boarders. Most of the surf on the Peninsula is based around Eaglehawk Neck and Roaring Beach.

Shipstern Bluff is one of the biggest attractions because it is one of the heaviest waves in the world.

Andy Irons, Dean Morrison and Dylan Longbottom are just a few big names that surf Shippy's on a regular basis.

The best time to surf Roaring Beach is in the summer but winter surfing is popular too.

Shippy's on the other hand is pumping all year around.

Those who are serious about surfing will often get a boat ride into Kelpies, Shippy's or Remarks from a local fisherman while most of the locals will walk to the place they want to surf.

The Peninsula is also a place where a lot of Tasmanian surfing competitions are held.

At Tasman District School, the secondary students are lucky enough to have surfing as an elective class.

We would be silly to fail to take advantage of the great surf that the area has to offer.

ELLIOTT IDSTROM and LUCY MCKINLAY

With thanks

THIS School Page was produced by Miss Anderson's Grade 5/6 class: Samantha Doble, Dylan Large, Jaiden Lynch, Bonny Mayhew, Lucy McKinlay, Anthony Seward, Maria Smith, Emma Blacklow, Jessica-Anne Blake-way, Damian Bourke, Eliza Dobner, Ella Dobner, Hannah Farrow, Kaitlyn Farrow, Leigh Gleeson, Drew Griffiths, Emily Hensens, Elliott Idstrom, Chloe Jackson, Chloe King, Maddy Kube, Juanita Morris, Chantelle Nowicki, Kye Reardon, Jackson Scott-Wade and Craig Wisby.

SCHOOL PAGE PROGRAM Ph: 6230 0736 <http://ink.news.com.au/mercury>

FELONS
PORT ARTHUR
New Menu
relaxed atmosphere
local produce great value
Port Arthur Historic Site
1800 659 101
www.portarthur.org.au

COMFORT INN
PORT ARTHUR ★★★★★
THE ONLY HOTEL IN THE HISTORIC SITE
Ask about our special family packages
(including the famous Ghost Tour Package). Restaurant & Bistro with finest views of the historic site
Ph: (03) 6250 2101
FREECALL: 1800 030 747

PARSONS BAY LODGE
1583 Main Road
NUBEENA
Managers: John & Sandra Hay
Parsons Bay Lodge (formerly Fairway Resort) offers a choice of accommodation from fully serviced motel units to self-catering Studios and 2 and 3 bedroom apartments
PHONE 6250 2171
www.parsonsbaylodge.com

CASCADES COLONIAL ACCOMMODATION
NATIONAL TRUST AND NATIONAL ESTATE CIRCA 1841
Come for a romantic getaway at Cascades Colonial Accommodation and explore the Tasman Peninsula. Mention this add for special price of $360* for 2 nights including full breakfast provisions
533 Main Rd, Koonya (15 km from Port Arthur)
PHONE (03) 6250 3873
www.cascadescolonial.com.au
*valid to 15 Dec 07

EUCALYPT CAFE
Superb coffee, sumptuous light meals, cakes, biscuits and chocolates! A glass of Tasmanian wine, a cold beer, a platter of cheese! View the contemporary artwork by emerging Tasmanian artists. Relax and enjoy the great atmosphere. Conveniently located opposite entrance to the Port Arthur Historic Site
Open Wed-Mon 8.30-5.00
6962 ARTHUR HIGHWAY PORT ARTHUR
PHONE (03) 6250 2555
eucalyptcafe@bigpond.com

Cunningham Holdings Pty Ltd
EARTHMOVING CONTRACTORS
Excavators, graders, rollers & tip trucks
Specialising in subdivisions, roadworks, clearing dams, landscaping, marine salvage, jetty construction
Suppliers of coarse and fine gravel
47 FERNTREE ROAD Eaglehawk Neck, Tas 7179
PHONE/FAX (03) 6250 3314

TASMAN EX-SERVICEMEN & WOMEN'S ASSOCIATION Inc
Main Road
NUBEENA
Club rooms & home of Tasman Bowls & Darts Club
• Members & Guests very welcome •
Phone 6250 2135

the MUSSEL BOYS
RESTAURANT and LUXURY STUDIOS
A la carte or Seven Natural Wonders tasting menu showcasing the finest local produce of the Tasman Peninsula.
Lunch from 12 noon, dinner from 6pm, 7 days a week.
Luxury self contained studio accommodation opening December 2007.
5927 Arthur Highway, Taranna
Telephone 03. 6250 3088

Fox & Hounds Inn
Arthur Highway PORT ARTHUR TAS 7182
• Ensuite & 2 br villas
• Close to Historic site
• Tennis court • Laundry
• Play area
• Conference facility
• Fully licensed Restaurant
Ph (03) 6250 2217
Email reservations@foxandhounds.com.au
Website www.foxandhounds.com.au

Lemo's Seafood & Roast Restaurant
6555 Arthur Highway, Port Arthur
Dine by the waterfront & enjoy Lemo's innovative east meets west cuisine over 30 choices on the menu
Every dish is freshly prepared and cooked on site providing excellent taste. We also cater for functions and small bookings
Open Tuesday till Sunday from 11 am to Late
PHONE 6250 3403